DO NOT ASK WHO WE ARE

ASK WHAT WE CAN DO FOR YOU

An aerial photograph of a person walking on a curved, white, grid-patterned roof. The person is shirtless and wearing dark shorts, walking away from the camera towards the edge of the roof. The roof has several rectangular skylights and a series of small, dark, pointed structures along its edge. In the background, a coastline with a sandy beach and a pier is visible under a clear blue sky. The text 'AN INDEPENDENT BOLD GROUP OF CREATIVE HUMANS' is overlaid on the right side of the image in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The word 'GROUP' is significantly larger than the other words. A thin red horizontal line is positioned below the word 'HUMANS'.

The work displayed is a collective pool of two separate companies that have merged to the current form. Most of the work shown were developed jointly by Talking Heads and Spitfire, however some works are from our individual portfolios. Over the years, Spitfire and Talking Heads wound-down, and Dhruv Bahri (Talking Heads), Andrew Durning (Spitfire) & a third partner, Hamza Usman (D-CUBED Media), decided to unite their collective knowledge and experience under the umbrella of Talking Heads, having successfully worked together on a number of projects already.
